Who Had Escaped to a Commanding Position on the Jail Roof.

He Peited the Officers With Slate and Held Them at Bay for Nearly Twenty-four Hours. [Finally Captured.]

Special by wire to Times-Democrat.

London, Dec. 6.—People here are reminded of the funny incident that occurred in Paris in 1899, when M. Guerin and other Royalists were besieged in Guerin's house and held it for days against the police. Yesterday, a prisoner at Pentonville prison named Tugwell, escaped to the roof of the jail and refused to come down and has been pelting police with slates and keeping them at bay for hours, with dense crowds watching the circus. This morning the prisoner who is in his bare feet was seen hopping about the roof in the frosty air while hundreds of police stood round the jail waiting for him to be frozen into subjection.

By noon, traffic was suspended on all streets neighboring on the prison, on account of the crowds. Finally the police, advancing from several directions and dodging the showers of slates that were hurled at them, grabbed Tugwell and brought him down.

ELOQUENT

Speech Delivered by a Socialist

Against the Tariff Bill Stirs the Reichstag.

Referred to the Tariffs on Grain as "Hunger Duties"—A Nation of "Plunderers and Plundered."

Berlin, Dec. 6.—Kerr Debel lifted the tariff debate to emotional levels. He spoke to breathless galleries in the Reichstag. As the representative of 2,300,000 voters, he lodged the Socialist protest against the "hunger duties," as he called the tariffs on grain. Herr Debel said there were two nations in the German state, the plunderers and the plundered. "The imperial chancellor, Count von Buelow," spoke for us farmers; I am speaking for the latter. Fifteen per cent of the German people are engaged in agriculture. The chancellor said the remaining 85 per cent were engaged in other occupations, and that 52 per cent of these latter were industrialists. The proposition of the government was to lay a tax of between 500,000,000 and 700,000,000 marks on food in order to make more profitable the occupation of 15 per cent of the people. Only one-ninth of the grain is imported.

Herr Debel, inspired by the tempestuous temper of the house, exclaimed: "This bill foments insurrection. The chancellor aims to overturn social order. We shall do our utmost to send this bill to hell, and we only regret we can not send its authors and abettors there also."

WHOLESALE

Arrests Made at Andalusia, Ala.,

May Result in a Wholesale Lynching Affair.

Twenty-two Negroes, Accused of Murdering White Citizens, Run Down by Bloodhounds and Captured.

Andalusia, Ala., Dec. 6.—Sheriff Bradshaw returned to Andalusia with 22 negroes who are accused of complicity in the killing of J. W. Dorsey, a merchant, and the fatal wounding of Fale Atkinson, city marshal at Opp. The negroes brought in were chased with bloodhounds and captured by the sheriff and his posse. There is great excitement here and there are fears that the friends of the dead white men will attempt a wholesale lynching. The sheriff landed the negroes safely in jail here and has taken precautions to resist a mob in case one is formed.

J. W. Dorsey and Marshal Fale Atkinson went to the turpentine quarters near Opp to arrest a negro who was accused of stealing a pistol from a white man. The negro was barricaded in his cabin and fired on the men as they approached. It developed that the negro had about 50 of his fellow workmen in the house with him. A general battle ensued in which Dorsey was killed and Atkinson fatally wounded. A white man named Fitzsimmons, who was with them, was shot twice in the leg. Two negroes were killed and several others wounded. The names of these are at present unknown.

Another Immigration Bill.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Senator Penrose introduced in the senate a bill for the regulation of immigration, prepared by himself and the economist general of immigration, which looks to a general revision of the laws upon this question. The measure provides for a duty of $2 per head on all persons coming into the United States from foreign countries except those that are citizens of this country or of Canada or Mexico, the fund to be thus raised to be applied to the payment of the expenses incident to the regulation of immigration. The bill excludes all idiots, paupers and persons liable to become a public charge, and those afflicted with loathsome or contagious disease. It prohibits assistance in matter of passage and provides heavy penalties for the importation of women for immoral purposes. Steamship companies are prohibited under heavy penalty from advertising for foreign business.

Warrants Out For Miners.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 6.—Interest was revived in the labor trouble at the Prospect Hill coal mine when Sheriff McCord brought Robert Brush, the Washington miner, here, and placed him in jail. Later Brush was given a hearing and pleaded not guilty to the charges of larceny, rioting and assault and battery with intent to murder. He was placed under $1,500 bonds, which covers all charges, and being unable to provide bail he was returned to jail. It has been ascertained through the sheriff's office that warrants to the number of 32 have been issued. All will be arrested as fast as they can be captured and will be placed in jail here. Trouble is expected.

McKinley Memorial.

Cleveland, Dec. 6.—Judge William R. Day of Canton, president of the McKinley National Memorial association, has called a special meeting of the trustees to be held at the Arlington hotel, in Washington, on Saturday, Dec. 7. The correspondence between officers of the Washington Arch association and Senator Hanna will probably be laid before the trustees.

Starch Plant Consumed.

Dos Moines, Dec. 6.—Fire was discovered in the National Starch Manufacturing company's plant in the southeastern part of this city, one of the largest plants of its kind in the world. Lack of water prevented the fire department from accomplishing much except to keep the fire from spreading to the adjacent property. The fire burned for several hours and the plant was entirely destroyed with the exception of the grain elevator and engine house. The loss on building and contents is estimated at about $200,000.

Boat Was Not Lost.

Portland, Or., Dec. 6.—The British ship Nelson, which was reported lost off the Columbia river, was towed into Puget sound by the steamer Walla Walla, bound from San Francisco to Seattle. The hull of the Nelson is practically intact, but her bulwarks are smashed, life boats and fore rigging carried away and cabins damaged. There are only three inches of water in her hold, but the extent of the damage to her cargo of wheat is not known. The Nelson had a marvellous escape from destruction.

GOMPERS

Launches an Active Campaign Against Chinese Immigration.

Submits His Annual Report

To American Federation of Labor, Now Holding Its Twenty-first Annual Convention at Scranton, Pa.—Text of the Report.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 6.—The second session of the twenty-first annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was called to order by President Samuel Gompers, 285 delegates being present. Organization, settlement of questions involving contested seats and the reading of the annual reports of the president, secretary and treasurer took up the entire time of the convention. William E. Seal, a negro delegate from a colored tobacco workers' union of Richmond, Va., was allowed a seat despite a protest from the white workers of that city.

The annual report of President Gompers showed a net increase of 311 local unions for the year and a gain of 35,410 members. From national and international unions and the federation direct there were issued 4,055 charters for newly formed unions, and charters surrendered or unions disbanded numbered 1,150. On Oct. 31 last there were affiliated with the federation: National and international unions, 87; city central labor unions, 327; state federations of labor, 20; local trade unions, having no national or international, 750; federal labor unions, 352.

There were four strikes of a different character during the year. About these the report says that of the river and dock workers of San Francisco was a distinct victory. The purpose for which the strike of the Amalgamated Association of Steel and Iron Workers was inaugurated was not achieved, and it was terminated upon conditions less advantageous than perhaps could have been obtained. Owing to the widespread interest this strike aroused, a large number of iron and steel workers employed by other companies than the corporation against which the strike was inaugurated have been organized under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated Association of Machinists report that their strike has very largely succeeded in establishing the nine-hour rule in that trade.

To create a defense fund the report recommends changing the federation's constitution so as to admit of a larger assessment. The report denounces the employment of young children, and contends for greater organization among women workers. Mr. Gompers says he has arranged an active campaign for the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion act, and expresses surprise at the "patience of the Pacific coast citizens in submitting to a state of affairs so horrible and degrading. It arraigns Chinese immigrants as lowering American standards.

Treasurer Lennon's report showed an income of $126,522; expenses, $118,708; total funds at hand, $8,814. Secretary Morrison's report shows the total number of strikes of all kinds reported, aggregating 1,056, in which 153,505 members were benefited and 12,707 were not benefited. Their total cost was $548,002.

COURT OF INQUIRY

Will Commend Admiral Schley as an Able and Gallant Officer.

Special by Wire to Times-Democrat.

Washington, Dec. 6.—While the publication in the morning papers of the effect that Schley will be condemned on five counts is considered here as only a guess, the best informed naval officers expect the verdict to be something like this: "That Schley will be praised as an able, gallant officer who did his full duty in the battle of July 3, that his blockades at Cienfuegos and Santiago were close and effective but that he erred in lingering at Cienfuegos May 22 to 24 and in ordering the retrograde move-

Washington, Dec. 6.—Experts called by the defense continued their testimony at the trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, charged with the murder of James S. Ayres, Jr. In May last. Maurice Bonine, her son, was recalled, and stated that it was custom to carry the family washing to the laundress, who herself gave evidence as to the nature of the garments brought to her on the day following Ayres' death. George W. Thompson, colored, a former employee of the Kenmore, testified that he had overheard Mrs. Bonine, Mr. Bonine and Ayres talking about chemistry and medical subjects.

upon so to do. The decision was the outcome of a hearing had upon state court receiver T. J. Carling's refusal to turn over to the bankruptcy court assets in his hands belonging to the Macon Sash, Door and Lumber company.

The Anarchists on Some of the Desolate Isles.

Is the Remedy for Anarchists

That is Recommended by Senator, Who in a Brief Speech in the Upper House Forcibly Defines His Position.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Senator McClellan (Ind.) made an extended and carefully prepared speech in the senate, with anarchy for his theme, and was followed by some brief remarks by Mr. Hoar (Mass.) on the difficulties in the way of dealing with anarchist assassins. Mr. McClellan's remarks showed careful examination of the legal authorities. He maintained that congress had full power under the constitution to enact a law punishing with death any person killing a president or assaulting the president with intent to kill, or aiding, inciting or procuring such an act. He favored rigid provisions in the immigration laws for the deportation of alien anarchists. Much of the speech was devoted to an explanation of the dangerous doctrines of anarchy and the extent to which these doctrines had been propagated within recent years. Senator Hoar's remarks were interesting as coming from the venerable chairman of the judiciary committee.

Benevolent Old Lady—How old are you, sir?
The Youngster—Thirty-five.
Benevolent Old Lady—Bachelor?
The Youngster—Alas, yes.
Benevolent Old Lady—Ah, too bad. How long?

Old Aunt (despondently)—"Well, I shall not be a nuisance to you much longer." Nephew (reassuringly)—"Don't talk like that aunt. You know you will."—Punch.

Finding of Court of Inquiry.
New York, Dec. 6.—A special to The Press from Washington says: "Rear Admiral Schley has been found at fault on five counts by the court of inquiry. This comes from a person who is in a position to learn the opinion of three admirals on the different specifications of the precept. It is understood, however, that the court finds against Schley: First, for the delay of the flying squadron of Cienfuegos; second, for misrepresentation of the reasons for returning to Key West to coast; third, for disobedience of orders in making the retrograde movement; fourth, for failure to destroy the Colon; fifth, for conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman in the Schley-Hodgson controversy."

Cullen Root, sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, for $50,000 damages, has been called for trial before Judge Munger in the federal court. The suit grows out of an article published in The Tidings, a lodge paper, published in Omaha. Served With Farragut.
Stamford, Conn., Dec. 6.—Captain which will have much to do with the framing of any legislation on this subject. He said the difficulty was that the assassin of kings and rulers always flourished in their crimes and were in no wise deterred by the fear of punishment. For this reason he thought it was almost useless to multiply punishments. The most effective remedy, he suggested, would be to have the civilized nations of the world agree upon some desolate spot on the earth's surface to which all anarchists who upheld assassination or the overthrow of government should be transported. In such a community the anarchist could carry out his theories of living without a government, and the world would be rid of his presence. The senate passed a bill extending the life of the industrial commission until Feb. 15 next to complete the work it now has in hand. The committee which will consider an appropriate tribute to the late President McKinley was announced and the senate adjourned until next Monday.

Joseph Perry Sanford, United States navy, aged 85, died at his home here, Captain Sanford was connected with the Wilkes exploring expedition around the world in 1838-42, and served with distinction in the civil war under Farragut.

FEW PEOPLE REALIZE

The Danger in That Common Disease Catarrh.

Because catarrhal diseases are so common and because catarrh is not rapidly fatal, people too often overlook and neglect it until some incurable ailment develops as a result of the neglect.

The inflamed condition of the membrane of the nose and throat makes a fertile soil for the germs of Pneumonia and Consumption, in fact catarrhal pneumonia and catarrhal consumption are the most common forms of these dreaded diseases which annually cause more than one quarter of the deaths in this country.

Remedies for catarrh are almost as numerous as catarrh sufferers but very few have any actual merit as a cure, the only good derived being simply a temporary relief.

There is, however, a very effective remedy recently discovered which is rapidly becoming famous for its great value in relieving and permanently curing all forms of catarrhal diseases, whether located in the head, throat, lungs or stomach.

This new catarrh cure is principally composed of a gum derived from the Eucalyptus tree, and this gum possesses extraordinary healing and antiseptic properties. It is taken internally in the form of a lozenge or tablet, pleasant to the taste and so harmless that little children take them with safety and benefit.

Eucalyptus oil and the bark are sometimes used but are not so convenient nor so palatable as the gum.

Undoubtedly the best quality is found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which may be found in any drug store and any catarrh sufferer who has tried lozenges, inhalers and liquid medicines, will be surprised at the rapid improvement after a few days use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which are composed with other antiseptics which destroy the germs of catarrh in the blood and expel the catarrhal poison from the system.

Dr. Ramsdell in speaking of Catarrh and its cure says: "After many experiments I have given up the idea of curing catarrh by the use of inhalers, washes, salves or liquid medicines.

I have always had the best results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets: the red gum and other valuable antiseptics contained in these tablets make them, in my opinion, far superior to any of the numerous catarrh remedies so extensively advertised. The fact that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold in drug stores, under protection of a trademark, should not prejudice conscientious physicians against them because their undoubted merit and harmless character make them a remedy which every catarrh sufferer may use with perfect safety and the prospect of a permanent cure.

For colds in the head, for coughs, catarrhal deafness and catarrh of the stomach and liver, people who have tried them say that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are a household necessity.

FUNERAL

Of the Late John Corrigan was Held Tuesday.

Concerning the funeral of the late John Corrigan, formerly of this city, the Barbenton (Ohio) Press publishes the following:

"The last rites over the mortal remains of John Corrigan were held at St. Augustine's church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Joseph Sheffield sang the mass of Requiem and preached the funeral sermon, paying a most worthy tribute to the life of the deceased, for the short time that he had been a member of the congregation. Rev. Sheffield said, although God had called him suddenly, he assured his friends that he was well prepared; that he had attended the daily mass, receiving the blessed sacrament on the first Friday of each month, and made the public and every Sunday when the first bell rang out to warn the people of the high mass, the deceased was in church praying just as he seen him the Sunday that God called him, within a hundred feet of the church. Rev. Sheffield said that Mr. Corrigan told him a few weeks prior to his death, that it mattered little where his body layed just so it was in the consecrated soil and all he would ask was the prayers and the sacrifice of the mass. His children with their families were all present at the funeral and the body was consigned to a place of rest in St. Augustine cemetery."

All druggists guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to anyone who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for the gripe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

NUPTIALS

Of Two Popular Young Colored People

Celebrated at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adell Last Evening—Will Reside in Dayton.

Last evening at eight o'clock, about fifty relatives and friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adell, of west Elm street, to witness the marriage ceremony uniting the lives of Miss Carrie E. Waldon and Mr. Jesse B. Gaines. The bride wore a becoming gown of white albatross trimmed with pleatings of mousseline de sole on the skirt, and on the satin yoke, lace was used as trimming; white carnations were carried by the bride, her attendant was her sister, Miss Maggie Waldon, and the groom's best man was Mr. G. M. Bibbs. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Craddock, of Columbus.

Hearty good wishes followed the ceremony, then came feasting and a good social time. The presents were useful and pretty and will be an addition to their new home, to which they will go in a few days and will be at home to their friends at 129 Olive street, Dayton. The from out of town guests were: Mr. E. Fields, Miss Dora Lucas and Mr. John Fields, of Columbus, and Mr. Wm. Fields, of Van Wert.

Choice Not What They Asked For.Citizens of the Fourth and Fifth Wards MeetAnd Refuse to Take Action Upon a Matter of Interest to the Whole City With Only Two Wards Represented.

The announcement made by the Times-Democrat yesterday that there would be a meeting of citizens of the Fourth and fifth wards held at the house on east Kibby street in the evening for the purpose of discussing the proposed division of the two wards, was responded to by quite a number of the representative citizens of the ward and the question was thoroughly discussed. President Davis and Mr. Linderman, of the city council, were present and endeavored to get an expression from the meeting as to whether or not the citizens present would be satisfied to have the whole city re-districted into five wards in the event that the city council refuse to grant the prayer of the petition asking for a division of the Fourth and fifth wards. This proposition did not meet with favor and a motion to declare in favor of it was defeated.

Citizens who were present, declared that the meeting had no right to send such an expression to the city council even if those present should be in favor of Mr. Davis' proposition, for the meeting had been called for the purpose of getting an expression upon the proposition of dividing the Fourth and fifth wards and to take action relative to a measure involving the whole city would be an injustice to the citizens of other wards not represented in the meeting.

It was arranged by citizens present that the people of the Fourth and fifth wards had petitioned the city council for a certain thing and that the council should either accept or reject the proposition and not ask the citizens if they would not be satisfied with just what the council decided to give them.

A motion to stick to the original petition, asking the council to divide the two wards into four, with Main and Kibby streets as the dividing lines was carried unanimously.

Presentation of the Merits of the Flynn System.

The Flynn System of Vital Center
Health Culture was presented to Mrs.
Coulston's invited guests yesterday afternoon by Dr. Mary Anderson.
The subject was presented in such a clear, concise manner that the ladies present were thoroughly convinced that too little attention is paid to the care and development of the body.
This system meets with success wherever it is presented. Dr. Manchester, president of the Findlay college has the following in the morning Republican of Nov. 16: "The work of Miss Grah, teacher of physical culture has been enthusiastically received by the students and professors.
Prof. Flynn's method for health and happiness has excellent qualities. I take pleasure in commending the work done in the college."
Miss Grah will have charge of the Lima classes.

Mr. Manhard Will Discuss the Matter at State
Meeting

Of Ohio Landlords Who Meet in the Annual Session at Toledo on Wednesday and Thursday Next Week.

Mine Host A. S. Manhard of the New Cambridge House, is making a move toward having a bill passed as to what shall constitute a hotel. Said he to a Times-Democrat man this morning: "A couple got off a train a few nights ago, and asked to be directed to a near by hotel, as they expected to leave on an early morning train.
They were directed to one of the disreputable places in the neighborhood, which carries the title of "hotel", but upon their arrival they were not long in learning the character of the resort and asked to be directed to a respectable place.

The guest upon registering at the Cambridge related his experience to landlord Manhard and this, with several other cases of a like nature, is what prompted Mr. Manhard to take up the work of getting a bill passed to have an inspection of hotels, or places selling under that title, together with the passing of a law compelling the proprietors to give an indorsed certificate in regard to the character of the place. Mr. Manhard has taken up the matter with the hotel men's Ohio state association, which convenes at the Jefferson house in Toledo, on the 11 and 22nd inst.

Mr. Manhard received a letter this morning from the secretary of the association, heartily endorsing his views and requesting him to be present at their annual convention in Toledo next Wednesday and Thursday, when the measure will be presented by Mr.
Manhard and action taken by the association.

nature to attract attention.
Monday of next week, as has been stated, the services of the petit jury will be required and on Tuesday the circuit court judges will return to Lima to hand down decisions in the cases submitted during the recent sesterest will be the decision in the case of Clem Dickman, whose sentence of five years in the penitentiary is pendto the higher court.

Two Appeal Cases.
Wm. T. McHenry in his action against Juliette N. Ginter, has appealed to Common Pleas court from the decision of Justice Reilly, who found for the defendant. The suit was brought to recover $112.50 alleged to be due as commission for selling property belonging to the defendant.

The other appeal case comes from Justice Jacob Staver's court in Bath township, and the parties to it are Marion O. Roster vs. Ella and Lewis M. Burden and David Hollman. The plaintiff sued for $13 that is owing for nursery stock. Defendants acknowledge the contract but say the goods were not what was represented. The Justice found for plaintiff and the defendants appeal.

NOW THE VERDICT.

"I don't think the word, present, was used."

Mr. Meade—"Did you tell Mr. Klinger that Roderer told you he had made Mr. Klinger a present of $10?"

"I can't say whether I did or not."

"Did you in that talk with Mr. Klinger, give the substance of what Roderer told you?"

"Yes."

"That's all."

Mr. Meade—"Mr. Finnell you may take the stand. Were you present during the conversation referred to?"

"Only part of the time. I was in and out."

"Do you remember any of it?"

"Not very well. It was so disconnected. I remember hearing Mr.
Klinger deny having received the $10."

"Do you remember what Mr. Wickersham said to Mr. Klinger?"

"No; I was on the other side of the room most of the time."

Mr. Meade—"Do you intend from what you have said to have the committee to understand that all the conversation was between Mr. Klinger and Mr. Wickersham?"

"Yes, and I heard very little of it and can remember but little of what I did hear."

Mr. Finnell was retired and at the request of Mr. Klinger, he was permitted to explain the situation.

He stated that he had asked for a suspension of the publication until he could investigate it, and only wanted 10 days. His time was then taken up with the Dow cases. He told all the circumstances connected with the affairs which the affidavits referred to,
and during the conversation Mr.
Wickersham told me about the gift of $10 received from Roderer, as the affavit charged. He asked me if I would deny having been given that sum, and I replied that Roderer had never made me a gift of $10 or $1, or any other amount.

Mr. Wickersham had nothing more to add and the court pronounced the investigation closed.

ZINN

Case is Brought to a Close
By a Decision Handed Down by the Supreme Court.

Ends Litigation Resulting from Alleged Misappropriations

That Caused a Heavy Loss to be Sustained by First National Bank of This City Several Years Ago.

Among the decisions that were handed down by the Supreme Court of Ohio at Columbus this week and which are published by the Ohio State Journal, appears the following of local interest:

"Zinn-Baxter.
No. 6503—Walter Zinn vs. Samuel A. Baxter et al.; error to the circuit court of Allen county.

Burket, J.
1. When the directors of the National bank have violated the provisions of the National Banking act, to the damage of the bank and its shareholders, and the bank fails upon request to bring an action against such directors for the recovery of such damages, an action may be maintained for that purpose by a shareholder; but such action must be brought by such shareholder on behalf of himself and all the other shareholders, the bank must be made a party, the judgment must be in its favor, and the proceeds of such judgment will insure to the common benefit of all the shareholders alike. Such action may be brought in a state court.

2. In such case a shareholder cannot maintain such action for his benefit alone while the bank is a going concern, and has not been dissolved by proper action by the comptroller of the currency in a federal court.

3. One who has been a shareholder in a National bank, but has parted with his stock, cannot maintain such action against the directors before the dissolution of the bank by proper proceedings in a federal court. Whether he will do so after such dissolution is not involved in this case, and is not here decided.

Judgment affirmed.
Minshall, C. J. Williams, Spear and Davis, JJ. concur; Shaeck, J., not participating.

The suit which is brought to a termination by the above decision is one that was commenced by Walter Zinn, of Columbus, some time after the discoveries were made in the affairs of the First National Bank of this city that resulted in the arrest and trial of the bank's former cashier, Charles M. Hughes, on a charge of having misappropriated $100,000 of the bank funds. As will be remembered, the stockholders of the bank were assessed on their holdings and the bank was put in perfect financial condition as soon as the discoveries were made. Mr. Hughes was arrested and was tried and acquitted in United States district court at Toledo, and several months later the Zinn suit, against Dr. S. A. Baxter and all others who had been directors of the bank during the time that Mr. Hughes was its cashier, was commenced in common pleas court in this city. Walter Zinn was a stockholder of the bank until the time the assessment was made. He refused to pay the assessment made against his stock and began the suit to recover from the old directors, the sum he had originally invested in stock.

The defendants demurred to his petition, the demurrer was sustained and judgment was entered on it. Zinn then carried the case to the circuit court on error in sustaining the defendants' demurrer but the circuit court and finally the supreme court, in turn, affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

CORONER'S

Verdict in the Inquest at Adrain

Makes Sweeping Charges of Negligence.

Holds That the Wabash Company and the Entire Crew of Eastbound Train were at Fault.

The coroner's jury at Adrian, Mich., found that the disastrous collision on the Wabash road near Seneca last Wednesday night, between trains 13 and 4, was caused by the negligence of the Wabash Railway company and the trainmen of train No. 4.

The verdict says the railway company was negligent in failing to provide train No. 4 with a head end brake man and in failing to provide proper signals at the place of meeting of trains 4 and 13. Engineer Aaron T. Strong was found negligent in failing to properly understand and obey order No. 82, under which the train was running. Conductor George Martin was found negligent in failing to signal the engineer to stop and in failing to apply the air brakes when the engineer did not give the proper signal immediately after the station signal at Seneca according to the company's rules. Fireman Bastien was found negligent in failing to remind the engineer of order 82 when the engineer failed to give the proper signal and slow up at Seneca. Brakeman A. W. Ditman was found negligent in failing to signal the engineer to stop and in failing to apply the air brake until the train had passed the station at Seneca when the engineer did not give the proper signal on approaching Seneca.

Killed them All.
A west bound freight on the L. E. & W. ran down and killed four pigs and a dog several miles east of the city Tuesday afternoon. When the engine bore down upon the animals, the dog was valiantly trying to urge the pigs out of danger's way, but his efforts were unavailing. However, he heroically stuck to his post to the very last and was swept under the wheels to destruction with the rest of his four legged companions.—Findlay Courier.

Got Another Bump.
The Wabash Continental limited which figured in the disastrous wreck at Seneca, Mich., a week or more ago, was again in a wreck yesterday. At the Big Four crossing the operator threw the derailing switch upon the limited rather unexpectedly and before the engineer could check the train, his engine and its tender left the rails and turned over upon their side. A dispatch from Lafayette says that the engineer and fireman jumped and escaped injury. The passengers were severely shaken up, but none were injured. The track was blocked three hours.

Notes.
Frank Gum, for several months past night operator at the L. E. & W., has resigned his position, and will succeed G. W. Shrimple, resigned as night operator at the T. & O. C., assuming his new duties tonight. Mr. Gum was formerly employed as night operator at the T. & O. C. and is accordingly quite familiar with the work.—Findlay Courier.

The Affair This Year to Be Under the Direction of the Ladies' Kennel Association—Many Costly Prizes to Be Awarded.

An event that is always of great interest to lovers of the canine all over the world and one that brings together an aggregation of these blooded animals is seldom surpassed in the New York annual dog show, which opens in Madison Square Garden this year on Dec. 18 and continues four days. The affair is to be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Kennel Association, and if present plans are carried out it will surpass anything of the kind ever before. This is the first time the members of the fair sex have directed one of these exhibitions. The members of the association are to take full charge, and, while mere man will be called on to assist, he, to use a slang expression, "will not be in it."

Among the judges and heading the list is Miss A. H. Whitney of Lancaster, Mass. Because of her knowledge of the best breeds of St. Bernards, Newfoundlanders and pugs she will attend to those classes of dogs.

Mrs. Kernochan, the president of the Ladies' Kennel Association, is one of the leaders of New York society. She is a large, handsome woman and one of the wealthiest dowagers in the country.

A feature of the coming dog show will be the great number of costly and handsome prizes that are to be given. Every cup, plate and medal offered is the best that money can buy and well worth trying for. Among the clubs of the breed are the Airedale Terrier club, the Irish Terrier club, the Westminster Kennel club and the Ladies' Kennel Association of Massachusetts. A number of ladies will also give prizes. Mrs. Richard Harding Davis offering a silver cup for the best terrier in the show and Miss L. Alger a cup for the best curly coated pointer. New York's dog show attracts little less attention than the horse show. The world of fashion always attends, and the society papers devote columns to describing it. After the prizes have been awarded the attendance grows, because most of those who attend dog shows can discriminate as to the merits of the occupants of the benches much better after the decisions have been made. Then again others are ready to argue that the judges are not infallible, in which connection they are often coached by the owners of dogs that do not happen to strike the judges as being the best in their class.

Winners and losers alike among the canines have nothing to do but look as pleasant as possible under the circumstances. With a remarkable resemblance to temporary human idols of popular fancy the elect of the judges among the dogs apparently take their honors as a matter of course and appear as bored by public attention as do the shining lights among the jockeys, fighters, baseball and football players. A defiant although somewhat dejected look among those who are not handed blue ribbons bespeaks the losers. Those who understand the dog language, and there are persons so inspired at every bench show, have no difficulty in interpreting the expression in many a canine eye to mean "Just give me another chance, and I'll show those conceited dogs wearing ribbons that I'm far above their class."

Society always worships at the dog's shrine during the show, and from the hour the doors are open until their close interest in the four footed pets is unflagging. The children have their linnings in the morning, giving way to their mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers in the afternoon and evening. Some of the canine aristocrats sleep late in the morning, but others bark persistently long before the doors of the Garden are open. The big dogs are much quieter than the small ones, another proof of the good nature there is in fat, and most of them take the uproar and excitement unconcernedly. They all do their best, however, to make the show a "howling" success.

The dog seems to know when the end of the show is drawing near, and instead of "that tired feeling" he is wide awake and on the alert for his master to come and lead him to his shipping box. He has heard enough "Dear doggie" and "Oh, the pretty

NEW CHIEF OF ORDNANCE.

Brigadier General Crozier, Who Succeeded General Huntington.

In Brigadier General Crozier, who was recently appointed chief of ordnance, Uncle Sam has an officer who for years has been demonstrating his ability in nearly every department of ordnance and showing himself an expert in affairs pertaining to his profession. The president and Secretary Root have long been favorably impressed with his ability, and twenty-seven of his senior officers were present by him making the appointment.

The new chief of ordnance is one of the most energetic men in the army.

BRIGADIER GENERAL CROZIER.

He has a wide reputation in this and other countries as an ordnance expert. He is full of nervous force notwithstanding he has a frail physical constitution, which has kept him on sick leave to some extent within recent years.

Brigadier General Crozier is a native of Ohio, but was appointed to the Military academy from Kansas in 1872. When he graduated in 1876, he entered the artillery and was transferred to the ordnance in 1881. He became a captain in 1890, after fourteen years' service. During the Spanish war he served as a major and inspector general of volunteers. In his career as ordnance officer he has given strictest attention to guns and gun carriages and was a joint inventor with General Huntington of the Huntington-Crozier disappearing carriage.

The father of General Crozier was the late Judge Crozier, at one time a United States senator from Kansas. General Crozier was the American military delegate to the peace conference at The Hague, where his fame as the inventor of the disappearing gun carriage had preceded him. While attending the conference he made a notable address against the use of the explosive bullet in warfare.

At Cavite during the Spanish-American war General Crozier's services were commended by Generals Schwan and Bates, and for conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Langtson, China, General Chaffee recommended him for brevet.

IN A NEW ROLE.

Success of Virginia Harned in "Alice of Old Vincennes."

Virginia Harned, who is this year playing the title role in "Alice of Old Vincennes," is exceptionally beautiful and is an actress who has achieved considerable success in her profession. The early portion of her stage career was passed in England, where she made her debut in the London revival of "Our Boys." Soon after this she came to this country, and her first important engagement was with the Rialto company, in which she played important parts.

Several years ago Miss Harned appeared in the principal comedy role of "A Long Lane" and as a result was engaged as leading lady to support Mr. E. H. Sothern, the well known actor. She created the parts of Clara

VIRGINIA HARNED.

Dexter in "The Master of Woodharlow," the dancing girl in the play of that name and Fanny in "Lettorblake."

Miss Harned became the wife of Mr. Sothern a few years ago and for some time enacted the leading roles in his plays. When the book "Alice of Old Vincennes" was published, it was decided to dramatize it and send Miss Harned starring in it. The protagol role just suits her style of acting, and she has scored a great success.

The acting of Miss Harned is distinguished by a subtle power, and exquisite tone inflections mark her voice. She possesses a remarkable facility of making all the characters she portrays irresistibly winning and attractive.

OUR FINE CAPITOL.

MANY CHANGES MADE IN THE NATIONAL BUILDING.

House of Representatives Much Improved and Seating Capacity Enlarged—Handsome New Committee Rooms—Other Improvements.

Not in years has the capitol in Washington gone through such a course of reconstruction and adornment as during the last recess of congress, and all that brawn and muscle and architects can do has been done to make the big domed structure fit for the country's statesmen. The last congress appropriated considerably over a quarter of a million dollars for this purpose, including $53,000 for the reconstruction of the roofs of the supreme court chamber and statutory hall. The capitol today shows that no part of it has been missed by the hand of the decorator, and a profusion of colors of all shades has been applied to the interior. It is agreed on all sides that the building was never in as fine order, and the improvements have received nothing but praise from senators and representatives.

In the house the large panels in the wall have been redone in gray figured damask, the seating capacity increased and a new carpet and door laid. New desks of handsome mahogany have also been put in, and during a dry speech a representative can now tilt himself back and take a nap in a fourteen dollar mahogany chair.

What is probably appreciated more than any other of the improvements in the house is the new system of ventilation which has been installed. The matter of securing proper ventilation for the house of parliament has given English engineers years of worry and trouble, but Mr. Woods, who had this affair in hand for the capitol, believes he has solved the problem. By the new arrangement fresh air comes up through the dock legs and is distributed evenly through the chamber.

In making ready to decorate the ceilings and skylights of the house of representatives it was found necessary to apply soap and water in liberal quantities, and even a third washing was necessary to remove the last of the smoke stains. As the ceilings and skylights of the senate simply needed dusting it is plain that the representatives are either the harder smokers or smoke the poorest cigars. Brighter colors have been used all around, and some of the walls and ceilings look almost as gay as those of a theater. It was an old idea that somberness and dignity went together.

In the general changes the clock-rooms have been reduced somewhat in size, but at the same time they have been improved. The big old fashioned wood fireplaces have been removed, and six modern grates with marble mantels take their place. The barber shops which occupied the corner clock-rooms on both the Republican and Democratic sides have been placed in the basement, and in the new shops an eight foot high wooden partition is all that separates the members of the two great political parties as they meekly submit to the "pull of the razor."

The house pages now sit in the two rear corners of the hall, and an electric push button on each member's desk connects with an annunciator on a table and calls the boys.

The new committee rooms which occupy the space vacated by the library of congress have been handsomely decorated and furnished, and the work on the corridors leading to them has been done in most lavish style. In order to harmonize with this new construction the main stairway leading into the rotunda from the west entrance of the capitol was reconstructed in white marble, with marble panelings on the sides, making it the most attractive stairway in the building. The new elevators have been put in for the use of senators and representatives in the new section, and the twenty-eight rooms forming this addition to the committee space of congress will virtually make a colony by itself.

One of the most important and expensive of the various improvements was the roof work of the capitol. The roofs of the small domes were in a state of collapse, and to put on new ones necessitated a large number of changes in the building. Improvements in the senate have been limited to the gilding of the marble room and the corridors and to extensive improvements in the document room and library. The documents, which have heretofore been stowed away in nooks and corners, are now arranged in an array of steel file cases commodious and easy to manipulate.

NOW THE VERDICT.

Court Concludes the Investigation of Charges Against Mr. Klinger.

Another Pretty Plan Spoiled

And Mr. Klinger Explains the Situation He was Placed in by the Publishers of the Affidavits. Report Will be Made to the Court.

Three members of the investigating court, attorneys Motter, Cable and Meade remained in session yesterday afternoon until all of the testimony that had been offered in the Klinger matter was submitted, and at the conclusion, Mr. Meade announced that the investigation was now closed, there being no further witnesses to appear that the committee was aware of. The announcement was also made that the committee would make its report to Judge Cunningham at the earliest possible moment, but that it would likely take some days to go over the testimony carefully and weigh the evidence.

the purpose of getting back a portion of the $200, or at least the $100 note. Mr. Klinger made the statement that Roderer came to him after having been seen by the detectives and told of the paper they wanted signed, using the expression that if it was done the money Mr. Klinger had received would have to be refunded.

Mr. Motter began the investigation, and the other members of the committee asked frequent questions, but while Roderer insisted at every turn that he had not told Mr. Klinger anything about the detectives wanting him to sign the paper, he admitted that such was really the case, and that the detectives told him they would get his money back if he would sign the affidavit. He also acknowledged that he hesitated for some time before doing so, but again insisted that he had not so informed Mr. Klinger.

Mr. Motter—"Did you have any talk with Mr. Klinger at his office about Blaize being to see you?" "Yes; I told him the detectives said the costs should only have been $8.50, and that he had no right to charge so much."

Cable—"Did you tell Mr. Klinger that the detectives wanted you to sign the affidavit?"

"No."

"What did you tell him they wanted you to do?"

"Go to an attorney."

"Did you go to Mr. Klinger's office

after you had been to see Mr. Hamilton?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him they wanted you to sign a paper there?"

"No."

"Did you tell him that Blaize said you could get your money back?"

"No; I only said they told me he had no right to charge so much."

Motter—"Did you ask Mr. Klinger, in that conversation to pay back part of the money?"

"No."

"Did you say you would sign an affidavit against him?"

"No."

"Did you tell him Blaize wanted you to?"

"No."

"Did you ask Mr. Klinger to give back the note?"

"No."

"Well, what did you say to him?"

"I told him Blaize said there were no costs, and I wanted to find out where they came from."

Mr. Klinger—"Do you remember your last visit at my office?"

"Yes."

"Didn't you tell me then that the detectives wanted you to sign a paper at Hamilton's office?"

"No."

"Didn't you tell me that the detectives told you Mr. Hamilton would get your money back and that it would cost you nothing if he didn't?"

"I can't recollect, but I might have spoken about it."

"Now, charge your memory. Didn't you tell me that the detective, you didn't know which one, said he would get your money back?"

"Yes."

"What did they want you to do?"

"Nothing."

"Didn't they solicit you to sign a paper at Hamilton's office?"

"No."

"Didn't you tell me so?"

"No."

Mr. Cable—"Who first asked you to sign a paper?"

"Blaize, Everton and Sanford."

Mr. Motter—"What did you say to Mr. Klinger?"

"I don't remember having said anything to Mr. Klinger about signing a paper."

"You tried to get your money back, didn't you?"

"I told him it was too much; that the detectives told me to come and see him and say the costs were too much."

Mr. Klinger—"Did you know what they wanted you to sign a paper for?"

"YES, THEY TOLD ME THAT THEY WOULD GET THE MONEY BACK."

"Didn't they state that it was nothing to you, and if you would sign the paper they would get your money, and it would cost you nothing?"

"THEY TOLD ME I NEEDN'T BOTHER ABOUT IT. ALL I WOULD HAVE TO DO WOULD BE TO GIVE TESTIMONY. THEY TOLD ME I HAD BEEN ROBBED AND THERE WAS NO USE TO LET ANY ONE DO IT."

Such was, in substance, the burden of the evidence as furnished by Roderer, and the only point in dispute is that Roderer who admits the facts as stated by Mr. Klinger on the stand, insists that he did not inform the Prosecutor about the efforts being made to get him to sign the papers, he stated that he had been asked so many questions that he was confused and it was hard for him to remember everything.

Roderer was then excused and Mr. Meade, addressing Mr. Finell, asked him if he had any statements to make. He replied that he had not, but that Mr. Wickersham, he believed, had some additional evidence to offer. The court asked that he be sent over at once, and the message was conveyed to him.

Naturally, there was some speculation as to what sort of a bomb shell the discomfited editors had up their sleeves to save them from utter defeat, but the expected denouement was about as thrilling as the plot in a Chinese drama, and the enemy was again completely routed on their own soil. Mr. Wickersham had come up the three flights of stairs two at a time and what breath he had left was taken away when Mr. Klinger's turn came to explain.

When asked by Mr. Meade if he had any corrections to make in his previous testimony or any additional evidence to offer, he replied that he had overlooked a little matter that occurred during the conversation he had with Mr. Klinger, prior to the publication of the affidavits.

Mr. Wickersham then stated that he asked Mr. Klinger whether or not Mr. Roderer had given him the $10 alleged in the affidavit, and he replied positively that Roderer had not.

Mr. Klinger—"That was when I asked you to suspend publication until after I had time to investigate wasn't it?"

"Yes."

"You explained to me the substance of the affidavits and referred to the $10 as having been given to me as a present, did you not?"

"Yes."

"Did you go to Mr. Klinger's office

after you had been to see Mr. Hamilton?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him they wanted you to sign a paper there?"

"No."

"Did you tell him that Blaize said you could get your money back?"

"No; I only said they told me he had no right to charge so much."

Motter—"Did you ask Mr. Klinger, in that conversation to pay back part of the money?"
